

Hank R. Smith, 2019

If you get a feeling to help someone, do it.

God could have given us all our own individual earths, but He wants us experiencing life together.

Maybe it is partly because He knows we can do so much for each other if we are brave enough to act.

Agency has brought about devastating violence and pain, but it has also created the most beautiful acts of kindness, sacrifice, and love.

Your agency can lift, heal, and comfort. Your choices can create relationships and bring peace to grieving hearts.

Catch the vision of the good you can do if you have the courage to act.

Answer the evil in the world with untiring love.